Moderator/reference copy – includes issue number, URL, and the gold-fix PR link. See `task_sets.csv` for the same metadata in tabular form.

Task 1 — 'observe' ungrammatical definition

Issue: #1055
Category: definition
Size: tiny
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1156

Synset oewn-02584595-v (Interlingual Index: i34578) (v) keep, observe, celebrate behave as expected during of holidays or rites "Keep the commandments" "celebrate Christmas" "Observe Yom Kippur"

New definition "behave as expected during holidays or rites"

Motivation Definition is not grammatical

Task 2 — Some very poor definitions of species

Issue: #1225
Category: definition
Size: small
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1332

- A species of sea cucumber inhabiting warm coastal waters from Australia to Asia
- one of the most common North American rabbit species, widely distributed across the United States except in the northwest and far west region
- a carnivorous mammal native to southern Africa, noted for its shaggy dark coat and scavenging habits

Motivation Definitions are not clear

Task 3 — Short Female Definitions

Issue: #1071
Category: definition
Size: medium
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1089

Some female definitions (highlighted by @KexionGAO42 and team) are much shorter for the female equivalent than the male. We should make these definitions a consistent and fair length. I have edited from her original list here with changes that are already implemented in #883 (as the original analysis was on PWN3.0) and I have added suggested new definitions aviator:N, someone who operates an aircraft airwoman:F, a woman aviator => a female who operates an aircraft airman:M, a male who operates an aircraft

assemblyman:M, someone who is a member of a legislative assembly => a man who is a member of a legislati assemblywoman:F, a woman assemblyman =>  a woman who is a member of a legislative assembly horseman:M, a man skilled in equitation horsewoman:F, a woman horseman => a woman skilled in equitation

oarsman:M, a male who rows a boat oarswoman:F, a woman oarsman = > a female who rows a boat policeman:M, a male member of a police force policewoman:F, a woman policeman => a female member of a police force

scotchman:M, a male native or inhabitant of Scotland scotchwoman:F, a woman who is a Scot => a female native or inhabitant of Scotland

statesman:M, a man who is a respected leader in national or international affairs stateswoman:F, a woman statesman => a woman who is a respected leader in national or international affai businessman:M, a person engaged in commercial or industrial business (especially an owner or executive) businesswoman:F, a female businessperson => a woman engaged in commercial or industrial business businessperson:N, a capitalist who engages in industrial commercial enterprise

newsman:M, a male person who investigates and reports or edits news stories newswoman:F, a female newsperson => a female person who investigates and reports or edits news stories newsperson:N, a person who investigates and reports or edits news stories

Task 4 — 'classic'

Issue: #1263
Category: duplicate_or_merge
Size: medium
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1334

Synset oewn-02479168-s (Interlingual Index: in) (s) classic > of a well-known type; remarkably typical "the classic struggle between good and evil" "I woke up with all the classic symptoms of the flu" "she made the classic mistake of choosing style over substance"

oewn-02352097-s (Interlingual Index: in) (s) classic > considered of the highest quality and lasting significance or worth "a classic car" "'War and Peace' is a classic novel"

oewn-00613690-s (Interlingual Index: in) (s) classic, classical > well-known and long-established in form or style "a classical ballet" "classic double-breasted suit" "the classic struggle between good and evil"

Motivation These synsets are not clearly distinguished and in at least one case have the exact same example.

I would suggest to merge them into a single sense.

This follows other dictionaries e.g., https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/classic https://www.oed.com/dictionary/clas

Task 5 — 'be full'/'be well'

Issue: #1039
Category: deprecation
Size: medium
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1062

Synset oewn-01190875-v (Interlingual Index: i27559) (v) be full be sated, have enough to eat "I'm full–don't give me any more beans, please"

oewn-00065266-v (Interlingual Index: i22104) (v) be well be healthy; feel good "She has not been well lately"

Motivation These aren't verbs but adjectives. The synsets should be deprecated by the adjective synsets

Task 6 — fox/weasel/snake

Issue: #1312
Category: other
Size: tiny
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1320

fox/weasel/snake

we have three words with similar meanings, but they end up in quite different parents of the hierarchy

fox, dodger, slyboots `a shifty deceptive person` [U+27EA]i89564[U+27EB] under beguiler [U+27EA]i89432[U+27EB] under unwelcome person [U+27EA]i87251[U+27EB] under doer [U+27EA]i88069[U+27EB]

weasel `a person who is regarded as treacherous or sneaky` [U+27EA]i94062[U+27EB] directly under doer [U+27EA]i88069[U+27EB]

snake, snake in the grass 'a deceitful or treacherous person' [U+27EA]i93095[U+27EB] under bad person [U+27EA]i88407[U+27EB] under doer [U+27EA]i88069[U+27EB]

I think all three should be under beguiler [U+27EA]i89432[U+27EB].

Motivation

They all have similar meanings, so should be close to each other.

Task 7 — ‘bendy’

Issue: #1400
Category: other
Size: small
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1405

Synset 01025680-a

Lemma ‘bendy’

Motivation It is weird that we have ‘bendy tree’ but not ‘bendy’. It is a synonym of ‘flexible’

Task 8 — 'pair'< 'building'

Issue: #1221
Category: relation
Size: tiny
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1330

Existing relation oewn-07993383-n (Interlingual Index: i79228) (n) pair two people considered as a unit

oewn-07989688-n (Interlingual Index: i79211) (n) building the occupants of a building "the entire building complained about the noise"

Motivation These two shouldn't be related directly. 'pair' has another hypernym so this can be removed without any other changes

Task 9 — ‘country’ vs ‘countryside’

Issue: #1386
Category: relation
Size: small
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1394

Synsets

08662297-n: country, rural area
    an area outside of cities and towns (his poetry celebrated the slower pace of life in the country) hypernym: 08591861-n (geographical area, geographic area, geographical region, geographic region) mero_part: 08633625-n (pasture, pastureland, pasture land, grazing land, lea, ley) hyponym: 08519693-n (backwoods, back country, boondocks, hinterland); 08587011-n (farmland, farming

08662608-n: countryside
    rural regions
    hypernym: 08662297-n (country, rural area)

Motivation ‘countryside’ is a hyponym of ‘country’ but the definition is nearly the same as the synonym ‘rural region’.

All of the examples clearly have substitution without loss of meaning > for this one weekend in the country(side) > but Mr._Flannagan thought the country(side) would be safer in_case_of war

Task 10 — 'pshaw' and similar

Issue: #1368
Category: relation
Size: medium
Gold fix (moderator only): https://github.com/globalwordnet/english-wordnet/pull/1385

Synset

01066084-v: pooh-pooh
    express contempt about hypernym: 00942415-v (express, verbalize, verbalise, utter, give tongue to)

Lemma 'pshaw', 'pish', 'pooh'

Motivation These occur quite frequently as interjections (so not in our scope), but also rarely as verbs, for example:

> It cannot be pished and pshawed away, by you or me or another. "Margarita's Soul" by Ingraham Lovell

It was also the answer to a popular word game, so we should have it!
